CATALOGUE

OF THE

HERALDS' VISITATIONS;

WITH REFERENCES TO

MANY OTHER VALUABLE GENEALOGICAL AND TOPOGRAPHICAL MANUSCRIPTS

IN THE British Museum.

SECOND EDITION.

LONDON

PRINTED FOR JAMES TAYLOR,

162, GREAT SURREY STREET, BLACKFRIARS;

AND 130, NORTH STREET, BRIGHTON.

1825.

LONDON:
PRINTED BY S. AND R. BENTLEY, DORSET STREET.

It was the object of the following compilation to form an exact and convenient reference to the Copies of the Heralds' Visitations in the British Museum. To consult any particular Visitation, it was hitherto necessary to examine each reference given in the Indexes to the different Catalogues, and the inquirer was consequently obliged to make many searches, in several folio volumes, before he could discover which manuscript contained the information he required.

This trifling arrangement, which was first offered to the notice of Antiquaries as an "Index to the Heralds' Visitations in the British Museum," it is presumed, by removing that inconvenience in some degree facilitated genealogical researches, and saved considerable trouble to those interested in that pursuit.

The rapid sale of the first edition of this little work has encouraged its editor to offer a second impression to the notice of the public, in which such corrections and extensive additions have been made, as will, he hopes, render it still more deserving of attention.

Besides the many valuable collections noticed under the different Counties, which were not contained in the former edition, a list is given of those Genealogical and Topographical Manuscripts which relate to Scotland, Ireland, and Wales, and to the few connected with Foreign Pedigrees. At the end of the tract, an account is given of such Heraldic MSS. as would be of almost constant reference if they were generally known; and a Table is also inserted, shewing the dates of the Heralds' Visitations, and particularly distinguishing those, of which there are not copies in the Museum.

With the view of rendering the compilation as perfect as possible, all the different Catalogues of Manuscripts in the Museum have been carefully perused, and consequently some references will be found which the General Indexes do not afford, at least not under the heads to which the inquirer would turn.

In its present form, the work will, it is hoped, not only be found of utility to Antiquaries and all persons engaged in Genealogical pursuits, but it will perhaps be considered as an acceptable addition to Mr. Upcott's valuable "Bibliographical Account of the principal Works relating to English Topography."

December, 1824.

Although not strictly within the object of this little work, it is sufficiently relevant to the subject to state here that Hare's MSS. in the College of Arms contain a very extensive collection for Buckinghamshire. These valuable MSS. unfortunately written in rather an illegible hand, are undigested, and unindexed; but, notwithstanding these imperfections, it is, perhaps, the most valuable collection of materials for a History of that County which is extant.

VALUABLE

GENEALOGICAL AND TOPOGRAPHICAL

MANUSCRIPTS.

ESCHEATS, RECORDS, &c.

Cott. MSS.

An Index of the Heirs of Noble families, extracted from the Escheats and other Records in the Tower, from the reign of Edw. I. to the end of the reign of Henry VIII. - - - - - - Claudius C. VIII.

This extremely useful MS., which is arranged in alphabetical order, is very clearly written, and is apparently in the autograph of the celebrated Glover. The selection appears partial, and is taken from the Inquisitions Post Mortem and other Records in the Tower. As it does not extend beyond the reign of Henry VIII. it forms a very necessary addition to Cole's Escheats, and, together with that Collection, presents a body of Genealogical Evidence worthy of considerable attention.

Cott. MSS.

The Genealogical matter in the Escheats, from the 1st Edw. III. Anno 1327, to 10 Hen. V. Anno 1422, chronologically arranged, but the names are entered alphabetically under each year - - - } Faustina C. x.

Harl. MSS.

Extracts from the Escheats, taken from the Registry of the Court of Wards, by Thomas Cole, Clerk of the said Court, with Indexes of Names of Persons at the commencement of each volume, and of Places at the end arranged under the different Counties - - - - - - - } 756 to 760

The Sixth and Seventh Volumes of the said Collection - - - - - - - } 410 411

This valuable Collection commences about the 32d Hen. VIII., and, though not well arranged, and written in a very illegible hand, is nevertheless of important value to Antiquaries and Genealogical writers.

A Collection out of the Records in the Tower; showing the Foundation and Endowment of all Monasteries, Abbeys, Priories, Hospitals, Chapels, and Chauntries, and also of all the Colleges in the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge; the Incorporating of all Cities and Borough Towns, with the Companies in them: of all Fraternities and Guilds, with their several Liberties and Privileges. The Custody of Honors, Castles, Manors, Parks, and Forests granted, with other things of a similar nature. With Indexes of Towns, Places, and Persons. A folio of 1192 pages - - - - - 744

Harl. MSS.

The several Summonses to Parliament from 49 Hen. III. Anno 1264, to 21 Hen. VIII. Anno 1529 - - - - - 778

This MS. is described as being in some places more extensive and correct than Dugdale's printed Lists, though in others that work is more correct than this. This volume contains, however, an alphabetical List of the Barons so summoned, as well as an alphabetical List of all the Judges, Serjeants, and other Law and Civil Officers, who were summoned to Parliament ex officio, within the above period.

Summonses to Parliament from 49 Hen. III. Anno 1264, to 13 Car. II. Anno 1661, with a complete Index of Names - 3323

Harl. MSS.

Liber Miscellaneorum Roberti Gloveri, Somerseti Heraldi: transcriptus per W. Smith, Rouge Dragon, A. D. 1600 - 245

This valuable MS. is a copy of two volumes now in the College of Arms, and contains Abstracts of numerous Records and Charters, together with several Pedigrees and other Miscellaneous Genealogical information which is entitled to much consideration. It is well indexed, and is described at length in the Harleian Catalogue, Vol. 1. pp. 74 and 75.

Pedigrees, Arms, and Notes, relating to numerous ancient families, collected by and in the autograph of Robert Glover, Somerset Herald - - - - 807

This MS. is peculiarly worthy of attention from the high authority which is justly attributed to all Glover's Pedigrees; from there being about one hundred families noticed in this Collection, it presents a body of Genealogical information which, considering the exalted professional reputation of the Compiler, cannot perhaps be too highly appreciated. The contents of the volume are fully described in Vol. 1.

Harl. MSS.

p. 445 and 446 of the Harleian Catalogue, and a copious Index is given at the end of the MS.

A folio volume written on parchment, apparently in the reign of Richard II., for the use of Roger Mortimer, Earl of March, entitled "Liber Niger de Wigmore," and contains transcripts of almost all the Deeds and Evidences relating to the Estates of the Earl of March - - - - - 1240

To the account of this curious MS. in the Harleian Catalogue, the following judicious note is added, "It is needless to specify the names of the ancient and noble families whose histories and genealogies may be illustrated by the help of this book, since Cartularies, as well those of private families, as those of Monasteries, Churches, Colleges, and Hospitals, afford such store of materials of that kind, as to be constantly consulted by the best Antiquaries, upon such occasions."

Ralph Brooke, York Herald's, Extracts from Registers of Abbeys, and other Records, concerning Pedigrees, with drawings of seals, in 1598 and 1611; and another by Peter Le Neve, 1691. A Duplicate of a MS. in the College of Arms, and was therefore sold, circa 1706 4757

Arms and Names of Noblemen and Knights admitted to the said Society - —— f. 162

An Alphabetical List of all Persons called to the Bar by the said Society - - —— f. 208

DATES OF ALL THE HERALDS' VISITATIONS.

This mark * indicates that there is not a copy of the Visitation made in that particular year, in the British Museum.

Many of the following Dates are evidently only Dates of different Genealogical Collections; for although very considerable pains have been taken to ascertain precisely the Dates of the different VISITATIONS, it was found impracticable to give a List which could be relied on. Several corrections have been made in this List from that given in the First Edition of this Publication, which was chiefly taken from Moule's Bibliotheca Heraldica and Noble's College of Arms; both these works, however, and more particularly the former, have, on examination, proved to be extremely erroneous. It is also to be observed, that many Visitations, though under the authority of the same Commission, were necessarily made in different years.
